Charles L. Davis and his diamonds shone upon an appreciative advicace at Proctor's Tacatre last evening in "Aiv n Josiin." Tols is Mr. Davis's last season in his money-making success, for whatever its shortcomings as a model drama may be, it certainly has been a financial success. Some new features of the resistate order were introduced.

Fun. fast and furious marked, the preduction.

Fun, fast and furious marked the production at Holmes's Star Theatre last night of the mustical burlesque, "Grimes's Cellar Door," in which James B. Markie ("Grimes's me boy") shines as a star. The piece is simply a vehicle for the dissemination of laughter, sinu it achieves its object. Mr. Markie is an irrepressible bunbling siming of numer.
